City set to buy land for library

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

The pieces may be falling into place for an expanded West Sacramento library branch – one that does not require a new local bond measure.

The city council tonight will consider buying the necessary property for a new local library facility, helping the county library system along in the process of construction and expansion.

But is the city's involvement in a county library expansion unusual?

"This is the normal way in which local libraries are being funded in California," said West Sacramento Mayor Christopher Cabaldon. "The library is a county function. But new and expanded libraries happen only when local cities step up to the plate. You can see that in Davis, in Winters, and elsewhere in the state."

At tonight's meeting, the council will consider spending $375,000 from the city's redevelopment agency and $300,000 from a planned sales tax increase to buy a parcel that fronts both Merkley Avenue and West Capitol Avenue. The property is located at 1271 West Capitol Avenue. It is planned to house a future 25,000-square foot library branch, replacing the current Arthur F. Turner Branch facility now located nearby to the east.

Not included in the purchase is the acreage for sufficient library parking, or for a planned 10,000-square foot senior center. City officials are still negotiating the purchase of a separate parcel – located just between the "old" library site and the "new" one – to house these features. A price for this land at 1240 Merkley Avenue has not been agreed upon.

But tonight's action is designed to keep the project rolling.

"We need to have this parcel for the library so the county can complete an application for state bond funds," said council member Oscar Villegas. "We will not need any local bond money, other than (sales tax increase) money which will be used for library maintenance and operations. The difference between operating the current 8,500-square foot library and the new 25,000-square foot library will be around $350,000 to $400,000 per year, for the county to maintain the same services."

Cabaldon added that the county and state will be providing "the lion's share" of construction costs.

"The current library is too small for our growing population," he commented. "The facilities and equipment are not modern. We need a library that keeps pace with the city's growth."

He credited County Supervisor Mike McGowan with "working very hard to make sure the county fulfills its responsibility to West Sacramento" through the project.

MEAGEN MACBRIDE

RCHS Senior & playwright

River City High School's Meagen MacBride has won a "Linnea" award for a recent comedy she authored.

She called the play "Good Night, Abby."

"The story went backwards through a girl's life, from shortly before her death back to her birth," said Meagen. "It showed her tribulations, such as gaining and losing love. I wrote it so our drama group could produce it at the festival. They gave out four student playwright awards."

She has previously been honored at the University of Laverne Festival in Southern California.

Meagan is a 17-year old senior who plans to begin her higher education at a local community college.

Unsightly cooling towers: state will reconsider

■ West Sacramento officials will 'pull' an agenda item scheduled for tonight, as all sides head back to drawing board

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

State officials are re-thinking a plan to build three 50-foot cooling towers next to the Sacramento River in Sacramento – at a site just across the water from the "Triangle" area that West Sacramento has pegged for future high-end development. Under some weather conditions, the towers could generate a 300-foot plume of steam, say West Sacramento officials.

West Sacramento and some of the Triangle area's potential developers have helped send the project back to the drawing boards.

"My initial reaction was one of concern when we started talking about steam plumes on the waterfront," said West Sacramento City Councilman Oscar Villegas. "That's not exactly what was envisioned in the development of the waterfront."

Among those concerned about the towers has been the development company of West Sacramentan Frank Ramos, a stakeholder in the Triangle area.

Sacramento – also master-planning its waterfront – has expressed concern over the proposed Department of General Services cooling towers as well.

"They share some of the concern we have," Villegas said. "We are intimately involved in a joint master planning of the riverfront with them, so naturally they have concerns. We've made some commitments to working jointly as we develop the waterfront."

The state planned to build the cooling towers in "The Docks" area, just north of the U.S. 50 Pioneer Bridge on Sacramento's side of the river. West Sacramento's Triangle area stretches north from the same bridge on the opposite side of the river, bounded by the freeway, the river and the approach to the Tower Bridge.

A West Sacramento master plan for the Triangle calls for relatively upscale, high-density future development, including urban apartments, offices, restaurants and shops. Much of this development would potentially have a close-up view of the cooling towers and any steam plumes they create.

The cooling towers were designed as a reaction to a "cease and desist" order commanding the Department of General Services to stop releasing heated wastewater into the river. That order came from regional water quality officials.

The heat in question is produced by a central cooling system for 23 state office buildings in the Sacramento downtown area, all served by underground tunnels which carry steam, chilled water and control air.

The towers were intended to release the heated water into the atmosphere instead of the river.

West Sacramento has asked the Department of General Services to fully explore alternatives to cooling towers on the riverfront, including locating them elsewhere or releasing the water for landscape use. The state has been amenable to more discussion, reported Villegas.

"The state is willing to continue 'dialoguing' with us," he said.

In response, West Sacramento has pulled from tonight's city council agenda a proposed protest letter asking the state not to build the towers.

West Sacramento mayor Christopher Cabaldon serves on the regional water quality agency that issued the "cease and desist" order to the Department of General Services. Citing his dual role in the cooling tower debate, he declined to comment on the subject yesterday.

Last week's News-Ledger bungled the name of a Washington Unified School District administrator who helped coaches of the River City High School Academic Decathlon Team. The article should have referred to Associate Superintendent Patrick Campbell.

The News-Ledger regrets the error.

RARE JOINT RESOLUTION:

Cities & county ask state for vehicle fees back

West Sacramento Mayor Christopher Cabaldon joined other Yolo County leaders on Thursday in signing a joint resolution urging the State of California to restore funding from motor vehicle license fees to the state's cities and counties.

The state had promised to "backfill" such funding to local government when it cut vehicle license fees in 1998, said a City of Davis spokesman.

The governor has proposed ending the subsidy that was designed to bridge the gap.

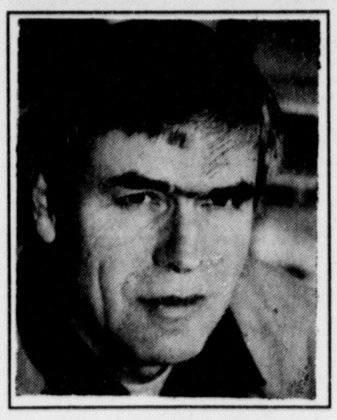

Cabaldon joined the mayors of Davis, Woodland and Winters, along with a representative from the Yolo County Board of Supervisors, at a signing ceremony at the Davis Central Park.

Cabaldon said yesterday that if state budget cuts cause a loss in the revenues West Sacramento receives from the state, the city could face serious trouble.

"We receive almost $2 million, or almost 10 percent of our general fund, from these revenues," he said. "The general fund is used primarily to fund services such as parks and public safety. If we lose a couple of million in vehicle license fees, we'll have to contemplate reductions in services."

A Valentine's Day thought: just what is love?

My Back Pages

By Daryl Fisher

Since Valentine's Day is right around the corner, here are a few quotes by some brave men and women who over the years claimed to have meaningful insights into the mystery of love:

"So long as we love, we serve. So long as we are loved by others, we are indispensable." (Robert Lewis Stevenson)

"Do not save your most loving speeches for those who are dead.
Do not write them on tombstones,
speak them rather now instead." (Anna Cummings)

"Love can withstand very severe storms of vigor, but not the long polar frost of indifference." (Sir Walter Scott)

"Convey thy love as an arrow to the mark, to stick there; not as a ball against the wall to rebound back to thee." (Francis Quarles)

"The supreme happiness of life is the conviction of being loved for yourself, or more correctly, being loved in spite of yourself." (Victor Hugo)

"There is nothing more dangerous than a lover without discretion; even a prudent enemy is preferable." (Jean De La Fontaine)

"We are not perfect. The stars and snowflakes are perfect. We are here to ruin ourselves, to break our hearts, to love the wrong people." (Nicholas Cage to Cher in the movie Moonstruck)

Asked by a gentleman friend why she seemed not to have a good sense of humor, Mrs. Patrick Campbell replied, "God did it on purpose, so that I may love you men instead of laughing at you." (Woodrow Wyatt)

"Love is not the dying moan of a distant violin -- it's the triumphant twang of a bedspring." (S.J. Perelman)

"I love you because you have done more than any creed could have done to make me good, and more than any fate could have done to make me happy." (Anonymous)

"Love is like a cigar. If it goes out, you can light it again, but it never tastes quite the same again." (Field Marshall Wavell)

"I think of the days before I met her, when I seemed to have no troubles at all!" (Fujiwara Atstada)

"Husbands rarely understand their wives; wives usually understand their husbands all too well." (John Train)

"I was at a party feeling very shy because there were a lot of celebrities around, and I was sitting in a corner alone when a very beautiful young man came up to me and offered me some salted peanuts and said, `I wish they were emeralds', and that was the end of my heart. I never got it back." (Helen Hayes)

"We don't believe in rheumatism and true love until after the first attack." (M.E. Eschenbach)

"If I ever really love, it will be like Mary Queen of Scots, who said of her Bothwell that she could follow him around the world in her nightie." (J.M. Barrie)

"Among those whom I like or admire, I can find no common denominator, but among those I love, I can: all of them make me laugh." (W.H. Auden)

"Let me not to the marriage of true minds
Admit impediments. Love is not love
Which alters when it alternation finds,
Or bends with the remover to remove.
Oh, no! It is an ever-fixed mark
That looks on tempests and is never shaken;
It is the star to every wandering bark.
Whose worth's unknown, although his height be taken.
Love's not Time's fool, though rosy lips and cheeks
Within his bending sickle's compass come;
Love alters not with his brief hours and weeks,
But bears it out even to the edge of doom.
If this be error and upon me proved,
I never writ, nor no man ever loved." (William Shakespeare)

And finally, my personal favorite, although I can't remember the author: "I love you not only for who you are, but for what I am when I am with you."

Ain't it nifty? Suzie's fifty!

TODAY'S QUESTION:
Derrick asks: "I have heard about 'no cost' refinances. That sounds too good to be true. Am I missing something or can this actually be done?"

DRE Lic. #01010462

YES...

A no-cost refinance is available with no hidden costs. All non-recurring closing costs such as title, escrow, lender fees and all miscellaneous title charges are paid by me.

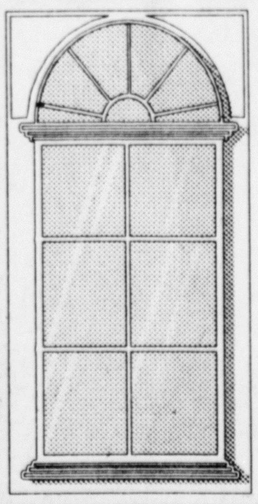

'Are impounds paid by you as well?'

No. The cost will still be the responsibility of the borrower. You will be refunded your old impound account from your old lender. That said, however, in some cases you can have the old impounds "rolled over" to your new impound account.

No-cost refinances can be done on most all loans and borrowers. However, just like anything, each loan is different, and so is the property and the borrower. Things change in our lives and on occasions a no-cost refi may not be viable.
A no-cost refi works simply by lowering your monthly payment, not increasing your principle loan balance, and no out-of-pocket expense.
Call me for details to see if a no-cost refi is best for your needs.

NOTICE OF WAREHOUSE LIEN SALE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the property described below will be sold as is at public sale on February 21, 2003 at the hour of 10:00 a.m., at Space 148, Westwind Estates Mobilehome Park located at 1399 Sacramento Avenue, West Sacramento, California in order to satisfy the lien claimed by the owner of the above mentioned mobilehome park for storage and other related charges incurred by Mary Ellen Poncia and the Anderson Family Trust. The sale will be free and clear of all claims, liens and encumbrances of record except for possible liens of unpaid mobilehome registration fees and unpaid taxes, if any. The Creditor reserves the right to require the removal of the unit from the Westwind Estates Mobilehome Park within 48 hours after the sale. In the event that this right is not exercised, prospective purchasers who desire to reside in the unit on-site are cautioned to be familiar with California Civil Code Section 798.74 and 798.75. Prospective purchasers must tender a cashier's check for the full amount of the purchase immediately at the conclusion of the sale. Except for the warranty that this sale is authorized by law, absolutely no warranties of sale are made. The park reserves the right to postpone and reschedule the sale without further notice. The general public will have access to the Mobilehome Park premises for purposes related to this sale.

A description of the property to be sold is:

One (1) 1986 Bayshore Single Family Mobilehome; California HCD Decal No.: LAI6731; Serial Nos.: BHA0205A & BHA0205B; HUD Label/Insignia Nos.: 312163 & 312164; Length: 52'; Width: 24'.

NOTE: The creditor claiming this lien will make a minimum opening credit bid of at least $6,082.84.

DATED: January 30, 2003

SPORTS INSIDER

By Rich Novoa

Kings Korner

The 2003 NBA All-Star game in Atlanta ended with a double overtime win by the Western Conference All-Stars handing Michael Jordan and his Eastern Conference buddies a 155 to 145 loss. The only local highlight of the All-Star weekend was Peja Stojakovic winning his second Three-point Shootout title. Peja collected $25K for the second consecutive year beating out Memphis' Wesley Person 22-16.

Now it's time for the Kings to go back to work after playing a total of 51 games that included more road games (29) than any other team this year! The Kings will be home for a nice stretch and looking forward to the return of Bobby Jackson and C-Webb. Good news regarding the NBA playoffs system was announced this weekend at the All-Star game. NBA officials and the players union agreed to change the first round from the best-of-five format to the best of seven beginning this season. This will keep the good teams from being eliminated after a couple of bad games.

Michael Jordan and the Wizards will be in town on Tuesday night (7 p.m. FSN) followed by a Friday night game against the Seattle Sonics (7 p.m.-Ch.10). Tim Duncan and the Spurs come to the Arco Arena on Sunday night (6 p.m) for another show down with the Kings. The Spurs beat the Kings on their last visit to Sacramento.

NFL

The San Francisco 49ers are still looking for their new coach after having three college coaches turn down interviews with general manager Terry Donahue. Rumor has the list cut down to three finalists. The Niners are searching for a new coach with defensive in mind. All three of the finalist Greg Blache (Bears), Ted Cottrell (Jets) and Jim Mora (49ers) are currently defensive coordinators in the NFL. I think if the 49ers don't find another candidate Jim Mora will be named the new coach for at least one year before they really find the coach they want to take them to the next level. These guys are good coaches but none warrant of a three-year contract!

Major League Baseball

Both the Oakland A's and San Francisco Giants are headed for spring training in Arizona with new managers and few new additions to their rosters. The A's new manager, Ken Macha, will inherit a great starting rotation with Barry Zito, Mark Mulder and Tim Hudson. These three pitchers should make the A's the team to beat in the West. The A's added a few new bats with Erubiel Durazo at first base and Chris Singleton in the outfield.

The Giants will head to Scottsdale on Feb. 14th with their new manager, Felipe Alou and string of new players. The Giants added Ray Durham at second base, Edgardo Alfonzo at the hot corner and Marquis Grissom and Jose Cruz in the outfield. The Giants also invited Andres Galarraga to back up Snow at first base. The Giants bid farewell to 14 players from their championship season.

Boxing News

West Sacramento's No.1 contender, Juan Lazcano, will be fighting on HBO Latino channel this Thursday night (Feb. 13) against Danny Rios. Lazcano (32-2-1, 24 KO's) will be the main event on Oscar De La Hoya's fight card in El Paso, Texas. Lazcano is very close to nailing down a title shot against Floyd Mayweather that would make our local boy a millionaire. Also, Sacramento's light heavyweight contender, Michael Simms (12-0) will be on the under card of another HBO bout in Chicago on March 15th against Felix Cora (10-0) of Galveston, Texas. Diego Corrales is back in the news after being added to the under card in the Mike Tyson vs. Clifford Etienne heavyweight title fight in Memphis, Tenn. Corrales won his last fight knocking out Mike Davis in the 5th round on January 25th. It was Diego's first bout since being released from prison for spousal assault.

See ya next week!

Man struck & killed at rail tracks

A man walking along the Union Pacific Railroad tracks west of Harbor Blvd. in West Sacramento on Monday was killed by a train.

Officer Amy Lawrence of the West Sacramento Police Department said the accident occurred at roughly 1 p.m., as the man apparently walked along the tracks.

A freight train was not able to stop in time to avoid striking him.

"They saw him from a ways back, and sounded their horn, and hit the emergency brakes, but couldn't stop in time," said Lawrence.

The man's identity was not immediately available.

Public input sought on storm drainage

West Sacramento is developing a "Stormwater Management Program" to meet federal regulations on the discharge of stormwater into the Sacramento River and the deep water shipping channel. The focus is on city activities that introduce pollutants to the drainage system.

A public workshop will be held at 7 p.m. on Tues., Feb. 18 at the city council chambers to present the draft plan and receive public input.

Cameron Foundation gives $10,000 to Yolo 'Meals on Wheels'

The Board of Directors of the Elderly Nutrition Program/ Meals on Wheels Program recently announced that they have received a $10,000 donation from the James W. Cameron, Jr. Foundation to help feed senior citizens in West Sacramento.

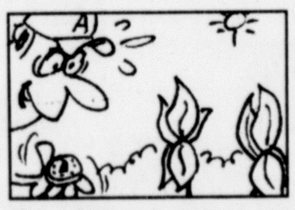

"This grant came at a time when the program was experiencing a $49,000 budget shortfall," said Jolaine Beers, Board Chairperson. "We were in the process of making some very tough decisions about service cuts agencywide and these extra funds from the Cameron Foundation will be put to very good use."

The grant is designated for food purchases only and will help to serve almost 6,200 meals. Last year the program served over 102,000 meals to almost 1,700 seniors in the communities of West Sacramento, Woodland, Davis, Esparto, Winters and Knights Landing. West Sacramento is the program's second largest service area, serving 557 seniors last year.

The Meals on Wheels program is always appreciative of donations and volunteers and anyone wishing to help is encouraged to call 530-662-7035.

A baboon's lifespan may reach 45 years.

The compass plant is so-called because its leaves tend to line up in a north-south direction.

Prairie preserve guides wanted

Training of volunteer guides to lead the popular weekend walks at Jepson Prairie Preserve will begin on February 4th at the Yolo Basin Wildlife Center near Davis. Participants are expected to help four days during the touring season and if you are interested, call Kate at 530-758-5093 for

On February 8, the Sacramento Chapter of the National Association of Women in Construction (NAWIC) in conjunction with Boy Scout Pack 49 of Yolo District, Dens 1, 2, & 3, held their local building block program for 30 preregistered children at Clark Pacific facilities, 1875 South River Road in West Sacramento. The program is aimed at elementary school children in grades 1 thru 6 and encourages them to look into the building trades as possible future careers.

The competition involved the construction of various structures with interlocking toy blocks and was sponsored by Clark Pacific, Brenton Safety, the Sacramento River Cats, Ford Construction, the Sacramento Kings and Raley's Supermarkets & Drug Centers.

"Once children are allowed to use their imagination and develop their abilities, using skills as well as education, the sky's the limit," said Judy Brosi-Chrzanowski, President of NAWIC's Chapter #63.

In addition to presentations on construction safety and career opportunities in the construction trades, the event also featured a visit from Dinger of the Sacramento River Cats who autographed baseballs for the participants.

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

"Confessions of a Dangerous Mind"

Running Time: 114 minutes
MPAA rating: R

"Confessions of a Dangerous Mind" is based on the "unauthorized" autobiography of Chuck Barris, the guy who created such groundbreaking television as "The Dating Game," "The Newlywed Game" and "The Gong Show." In the book, as in the movie, Barris also claims that he used his "cover" as a chaperone for his game-show winners to moonlight as a CIA assassin.

"Confessions" begins (and ends) with Barris (Sam Rockwell), old and haggard in the 1980s and slumped in a hotel, beating himself up for creating what he (and many critics of the '60s and '70s) felt was television so bad that it signaled the End of Civilization as We Know It.

The rest of the film is a quirky flashback of Barris' career in the TV industry, his recruitment by the CIA, his love life and a sample of some of the shows he created. One of the funniest scenes is re-creation of "The Dating Game" featuring Brad Pitt and Matt Damon as the two bachelors who don't get picked by the bachelorette.

There's also a great "Gong Show" bit where those of us who grew up with the show get to see "Gene, Gene The Dancing Machine" one more time.

Rockwell is brilliant in his portrayal of Barris, capturing all of the man's self-loathing, his genius and the manic fun he projected as host of "The Gong Show."

Drew Barrymore also turns in a great performance as Barris' wife, as does Julia Roberts, who plays a spy with all the vigor of Natasha from the old

Drew Barrymore, Sam Rockwell

Bullwinkle cartoons. George Clooney also has a small part as Barris' CIA recruiter, and he plays the man with a brilliant deadpan manner.

The film was written by Charlie Kaufman, the same guy who wrote "Being John Malkovich" — and it shows. This movie is just about as strange. This would be a good thing, but there is so much ground to cover that first-time director George Clooney has a hard time juggling all the lunacy. Still, even with its brief, uneven and confusing segments, it is a funny, entertaining movie.

SPICE UP BEANS WITH FLAVOR OF CARIBBEAN

Time was when, for too many, cooked dry beans meant three-bean-salad or baked beans. That's changing, fortunately, as we become aware of the vast variety of beans available, their versatility and low-cost nutrition, and the cuisine of other cultures.

Let's consider nutrition. This complex carbohydrate is the only food listed in both protein and vegetable sections of the USDA Food Pyramid. Beans provide protein, calcium, vitamins, iron and zinc, as well as fiber. They are an excellent alternative to meat or fish.

Buy them dry and go through a long soaking and cooking process, or, more wisely, buy canned cooked beans ready for the saucepan, stockpot or salad bowl. Mash them, season them and you've got a sandwich spread.

Katy Heck, James Beard award-winning chef and founder of the New World Grill in New York City, developed Caribbean One-Pot Stew for Bush's Best of Bush Bros. & Co. And they're letting us pass it along. Dark red kidney beans are combined with sweet potatoes instead of whites, pork, veggies and lots of Caribbean flavoring. It's an excellent family meal, but it's also ideal for a buffet dinner party.

CARIBBEAN ONE-POT STEW

- 1 pound sweet potatoes (about 2 medium)
- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 2 tablespoons minced ginger
- 3 cloves garlic, minced
- 1/4 jalapeno, minced
- 2 ribs celery, diced
- 1 green bell pepper, diced
- 1 small onion, diced
- 1 pound pork loin, cut in 1/2-inch pieces
- 1 teaspoon ground cumin
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
- 3 (16-ounce) cans Bush's Dark Red Kidney beans
- 1 (14-ounce) can diced tomatoes
- 1 (14 1/2-ounce) can chicken broth
- 1 cup chopped pineapple
- 2 scallions, sliced
- 2 tablespoons chopped cilantro

1. Pierce sweet potatoes with fork and microwave on HIGH 5 to 8 minutes, until tender. Set aside. When cool enough to handle, peel and cut into 1/2-inch cubes. OR, boil potatoes till tender but still firm.

2. Heat olive oil in large stockpot. Add ginger, garlic and jalapeno; sauté until soft, about 2 minutes. Add celery, green pepper and onion; cook until onion is translucent, about 5 minutes. Transfer vegetables to a bowl; keep warm.

3. Season pork with cumin, salt and black pepper. Add pork to stockpot, browning on all sides. When pork is browned, add celery-onion mixture, kidney beans, tomatoes, chicken broth and sweet potatoes; bring to boil. Reduce heat and simmer 25 to 30 minutes, or until pork is tender.

4. Meanwhile, prepare relish: Mix together pineapple, scallions and cilantro. Garnish stew with relish. Serve with hot sauce, if desired. Makes 8 servings.

FROM START TO FITNESS
by Andrea Wyatt

Ski Fit, Ski Safe

Skiing can be enjoyable and great fun, but not if you are sore or become injured. Before tackling the ski slopes this winter, make sure you are prepared for the stresses that skiing can impose on your body. Modifying your current workout or beginning a new one to prepare for a future skiing adventure can be quite beneficial.

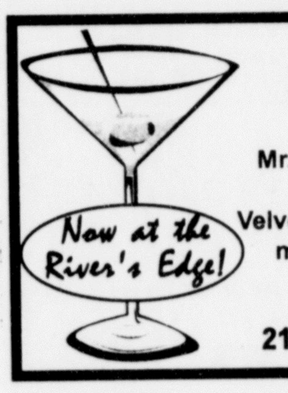

Cardiovascular and muscular endurance, flexibility, balance and agility are all important to remember when training for skiing. A great book to help you prepare for your next ski trip is "Ski Flex" by Paul Frediani and Harald Harb (Hatherleigh Press). Specific programs for flexibility and conditioning for skiing are described in great detail.

If you're looking for a great reference on improving your skiing, "Ski Flex" is an excellent addition to your fitness library.

Proper safety is often overlooked when skiing. The proper equipment, attire and knowledge of basic skiing skills can help avoid accidents and injuries. The following tips are recommended for a safe ski outing.

- Consult a ski professional on the proper boots, bindings, skis and poles to use. If you are not sure if your equipment is right for you, ask a professional.
- Take a lesson from a ski professional to learn the basics of stopping, turning and general etiquette on the slopes. This can help you and other skiers stay safe.
- Listen to your body. If you are tired, take time to rest. Often injuries and accidents occur when the body is tired and unable to react as quickly as when you are well-rested.
- Plan for an enjoyable, injury-free ski trip this winter by incorporating ski-specific training into your workout.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF RICHARD N. ZATICA
CASE NUMBER PB03-033

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of RICHARD N. ZATICA:

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Loretta Z. Bonilla in the Superior Court of Yolo, County of Yolo.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Loretta Z. Bonilla be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on March 14, 2003, at 8:30 a.m. at Dept. 7 at Yolo County Superior Court, 725 Court St., Woodland, CA 95695.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Probate Code section 9100. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a "Request for Special Notice" (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A "Request for Special Notice" form is available from the court clerk.

Police log

Feb. 2, 6:15 a.m.
A man was beaten up during an argument on West Capitol, and hospitalized. He was drunk and uncooperative with police about his assailant.

Feb. 2, 8:15 a.m.
A suspect entered an unlocked car and took a scanner and money. The car was parked on Halyard Dr.

Feb. 2, 12:00 p.m.
A man and woman at a Southport home argued about the man spending all night out, drinking. The man threw a cell phone and broke a window. He was gone when police responded.

Feb. 2, 12:05 p.m.
On Elkhorn Pl., someone drove a car into a fence, damaging the fence, and then left.

Feb. 2, 1 p.m.
An 18-year old boy reported having had a volatile relationship with a 16-year old girlfriend. He said she battered him, and he had visible injuries. He asked for a protection order and received one, but the girl was not immediately located.

Feb. 2, 4:44 p.m.
A man was arrested at Simon Terrace for showing signs of drug use.

Feb. 2, 5:03 p.m.
On Beacon Blvd., an auto was burglarized. Two laptop computers and a PDA (personal digital assistant) were taken.

Feb. 2, 6:50 p.m.
On 4th St., an officer cited a man for illegal camping.

Feb. 4, 10:19 p.m.
An officer spotted a suspected prostitute in a car with a man on the 1600-block of West Capitol. The car was registered to a Fresno owner. A second officer followed the car into a dark, closed business area and contacted the car's occupants. The 24-year old Sacramento woman in the passenger seat said she was on probation for prostitution in Sacramento. The man said she had asked him "for a date." The woman admitted they were going to a motel for a sexual encounter. She was cited and released.

Feb. 8, 7:51 a.m.
A 49-year old woman and the man she lived with got into a verbal fight, and the woman slapped the man in the face. There were no visible injuries, but police arrested the woman.

Feb. 8, 8:35 a.m.
An officer located a 26-year old Inglewood Dr. man after he had a dispute with his wife. Police arrested him for being under the influence.

Feb. 8, 8:50 a.m.
An officer contacted a 48-year old man on F Street. The man had a substance suspected to be methamphetamine, a glass drug pipe, and a syringe loaded with possible methamphetamine. He was arrested.

Feb. 10, 12:15 a.m.
A security guard at a West Capitol nightclub contacted a 27-year old Napa man in the establishment's restroom. The suspect was snorting a possible drug substance, and was detained. The guard obtained permission to search the man, and found a folded $1 bill with a white powder inside. The suspect admitted it was cocaine. Police booked him.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE is hereby given that a Draft Environmental Impact Report (DEIR) has been prepared by the Sacramento Regional County Sanitation District, State of California, and is available for public review pursuant to State CEQA Guidelines.

Title: SACRAMENTO REGIONAL COUNTY SANITATION DISTRICT LOWER NORTH WEST INTERCEPTOR (CONTROL NUMBER: 98-PWE-0612).

Location: The Lower Northwest Interceptor (LNWI) is approximately 20 miles long and passes through agricultural, residential, and commercial areas in Sacramento and Yolo Counties and the Cities of Sacramento and West Sacramento. The LNWI alignment begins at the Natomas Pump Station, near the I-5/I-80 interchange; it then travels westerly before crossing under the Sacramento River and into the Bryte neighborhood of West Sacramento; it then travels southerly through West Sacramento and Yolo County, before crossing back under the Sacramento River and ending at the Sacramento Regional Water Treatment Plant in southwestern Sacramento County.

General Description: The LNWI project involves construction of wastewater conveyance facilities as well as facilities to provide ongoing operations and maintenance support. The 20-mile project would include construction of two force mains connected by a gravity line. The northern force main would be dual 60-inch diameter force mains and the southern force main would be dual 72-inch in diameter force mains. Connecting the north and south force mains would be a 120-inch diameter gravity pipeline. The project would also include two new pump stations. A new Natomas Pump Station would be constructed at the northern end of the interceptor alignment and a new South River Pump Station would be constructed at the connection between the gravity line and the Southern Force Main, just south of West Sacramento. The project would also require two underground tunnel crossings of the Sacramento River. The northern force main tunnel would be at a depth of about 80 feet and the southern force main tunnel would be at a depth of about 90 feet. Project construction would also include manholes, air release valves, transition structures powerlines, access roads and temporary staging areas. The width of the temporary construction corridor would vary from 80 to 240 feet and the width of the permanent right-of-way easement would be 75 feet.

Environmental Effects: Significant effects on the environment anticipated as a result of the project include impacts to land use plans and policies; biological resources; hazardous materials; traffic; noise; air quality; cultural resources; aesthetic and visual resources; and public services and utilities.

Review: The Draft EIR may be reviewed at the following locations:

Sacramento County Department of Environmental Review and Assessment 827 7th Street, Room 220 Sacramento, California 95814	Sacramento Central Library Third Floor 828 I Street Sacramento, CA 95814	Turner Library Yolo County Library 1212 Merkley Ave, West Sacramento, CA 95691

The 45-day review period for the DEIR begins 11 February 2003 and ends on 27 March 2003. Questions or comments regarding the subject project and EIR should be directed to the Sacramento County Environmental Coordinator, 827 7th Street, Room 220, Sacramento, California, 95814, phone (916) 874-7914. Written comments must be received by 27 March 2003. A hearing to receive comments on the DEIR is scheduled before the SRCSD Board of Directors at 9:30 a.m., 26 March 2003 at the Sacramento County Board of Supervisors chamber, 700 H Street, Room 1450, Sacramento, California.

If you have questions or comments regarding review of this document please contact Peter Morse at 874-6929.

Artwork brightens library

By Betty Fairbairn Sokolich

The art exhibit at the Arthur F. Turner Library for the month of February is the work of two local artists, Stella Caluya and Dawn St. Nicholas. Receptions for the public to meet the artists will be held on February 8th from 2-4 p.m. in the meeting room of the library, and also later that evening from 6-9 p.m. at the Ann Bissett Clark Studio, 1510 Merkley Avenue.

The library exhibit is a compatible group of paintings created by two artists with similar attractions to idealized subjects and themes. Both artists use birds of the water such as egrets, swans, and herons as symbols of tranquility and serenity.

St. Nicholas paints an egret standing in richly colored water as he gazes down at his reflection. Caluya's "Swan Lake" has swans quietly swimming in a romantic setting near a waterfall, in a landscape reminiscent of a Japanese garden. In St. Nicholas's "Swan", an oil painting, the bird is ready for a take-off. Soft colors surround "Two Swans" with spring blossoms to indicate the arrival of spring by St. Nicholas, who also painted in oil "Forest and Egret", a forest aglow with sunlight.

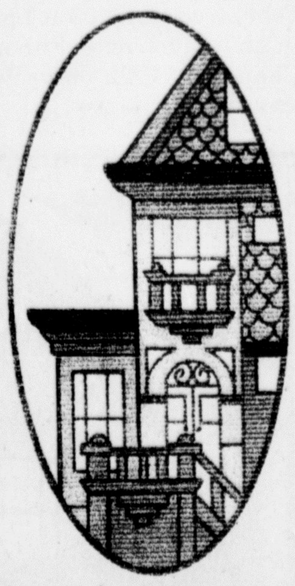

The challenge of painting with flowers is taken up by the two artists and accomplished by St. Nicholas in her two paintings "Calla Lilies" and "Calla Lilies, #2". In one she used a deep, red purple background to set off the dazzling white of the lily and in the second one a muted, soft background with dark leaves of the plant to give the necessary contrast to accent the flowers.

St. Nicholas's "Sea Shore" is an idealized painting of a young lady discovering the secrets of the beach. Her painting "Flower Basket" conjures up an image of the gardener hanging the basket on the door knob while she goes out into the garden to pick more flowers. The primary colors are softened to pastels to portray the gentleness of the petals and leaves.

Caluya achieved a beautiful, translucent still-life in the watercolor "Old Bottals". The old fashioned shaped bottles with the transparent and luminous quality of the glass is expertly defined in the painting with soft but rich colors. An Italian scene of a balcony window surrounded by a wrought iron fence and the inevitable European flower box spilling over with color is also Caluya's as are two small gems, "Bird House" and "Shells".

Library exhibits are sponsored by the East Yolo Friends of the Library.
